Introduction

The Composite Chart

One and one make more than two, and when two people get together a third party emerges: the couple. As a couple, a team, a dynamic duo, you both become part of something larger that can give you greater power and potential than either has alone. As the two of you become one, a totally new horoscope emerges, called the composite chart, which describes what you have become by linking up, what your special, mutual universe looks like from inside and out. It may be very different than either of you alone, or it may just reinforce you both, but it is what you are together, so embrace it. When you move to a new location, you modify that chart, and your image together and what you can do with it may change significantly. As with your individual charts, you have an inside that doesn't change with a move and an outside that changes with locality. To see if you have the best possible fit in this new place, here's a look at both.

A composite chart shows the midpoints between two charts' planet positions. Horizons uses a new method to allow the relocation of a composite chart. The composite planet positions are placed into the chart of the first person in the composite pair.

Angles in Signs

Ascendant in Leo

You'll be larger than life here and bring activity and raised spirits just by stepping into the room together. There's everything to be gained by a laugh and a smile and not much by succumbing to the urge to act your perceived size. The more modest you are about your congeniality, the more mileage you'll get from it here.

Midheaven in Aries

You can get tagged as too easily picking a fight here, which comes from taking things too personally and moving too swiftly to protect your interests. On the other hand, if you're looking to get tangled up and personal, this is just the place to be. Whatever is said about you, it is often without second thought, and changes just as easily.

Planets on Angles

Any planet on one of the angles (Ascendant, MC, Descendant, IC) of your relocation chart will be greatly strengthened when you are at the place of relocation, very much like if it were on the angles of your natal chart. If the Sun is on an angle, you'll have more confidence; if Mars is there you'll have more energy, and so on. Moreover, you don't have to actually go there to get the effect. Having a planet on a relocated angle will accentuate that place for you even if you are only doing business with people there over the phone. You have an accentuated quality to people in such places that you may not have elsewhere.

Composite Saturn Sqr MC (Strong)

If you're too self-critical out in the open here, people at large will come to believe and share your doubts, not something you want to have happen. However much improvement you both may need, keep it between you and let the dirty laundry remain in the laundry room, so you don't get hung out to dry.

Saturn in Sixth House

If you can avoid everyday humdrum here, do so. In fact, this may be just the place to come up with schemes to tighten your work schedule together and get rid of useless repetition. Consolidate functions, increase productivity, reduce waste -- if it's tiring, here's the place to begin losing as much of it as possible.

Composite Uranus Sqr AS (Strong)

The image you present in person here may be in conflict with what you actually do and are. You're much more original than people recognize at first glance, so you may have to work on the way you present yourselves together to reflect who you are. It's a fine line between going alternately unnoticed and upsetting people by too-sudden moves.

Uranus in Fourth House

Settling in here may prove inconclusive, as you may have to move for unexpected reasons, or you may just want to, without any. Where you live will be one set of discoveries after another, and although that doesn't always make for comfort, it's also an adventure and an education all rolled up into one. Key lesson: If you think you can count on something, don't.

Composite Venus On IC (Strong)

Just sitting around enjoying each other's company on a quiet evening may be one of this place's greatest charms for you. You don't need to go out on the town to have a feast, and you'll have a much better time entertaining at home and bringing the party to you -- if you even need the company at all.

Venus in Third House

Diplomacy will get you everything in this environment, and your joint approach to communication and even flattery can make you a desirable duo, indeed. You only need to be aware that promises and results are not the same thing, and the most pleasant of conversations may have to be a payoff in itself unless you let it be known otherwise.

Composite Mercury Sqr AS (Medium)

Talk and action can get in each other's way when you get under way together, and it can be easy to step on each other's toes in an attempt to make yourselves perfectly clear. If you don't get it right on the first couple of tries, move on to the next subject, as throwing good words after bad wastes everybody's time.

Mercury in Fourth House

You can get to the root of the matter here, at least you think you can. You'll likely find a lot of focus on the fundamentals of life, whether it's basic living conditions or heartfelt beliefs about where you come from. Life and its lineage are a constant fascination, probably because of unique clues you pick up here.

Composite Sun Sqr AS (Medium)

You may not see yourselves in the mirror here exactly as you would like to, but spending too much time in makeup isn't going to really help it out. Let personalities and appearances take their own directions without having to force a match that may not work. If the cost of being yourselves is surface imperfections, it's real life, not a movie.

Sun in Fourth House

You'll probably want to be able to take it slow and easy here -- set up shop wherever you're actually living and make forays out into daily life from there. You'll shine more at being visited than at visiting, as your greatest natural advantage together will be your home turf. When your feet are on familiar ground, you'll feel the most confident.

Composite Moon Sqr IC (Mild)

Putting your feelings on display in the marketplace is probably not a good idea here. Letting it all hang out may not be a hanging offense, but it certainly could work against you, and the more you contradict what's being said about you, the more people will believe the opposite. If it belongs indoors, keep it there.

Moon in Twelfth House

However outwardly sunny the atmosphere here, you'll find a tendency to be drawn toward emotional problems that might not demand your attention elsewhere. Thus, there can be storm clouds here that are yours alone, so you might keep your relocation options open if the inner skies start to darken. Don't paint yourselves into a corner here.

Composite Jupiter On IC (Mild)

You may find you need a bigger space here than you anticipated, just to contain all you need to have your immediate hands on at home. You'll probably find that your most original work and best ideas are brewed together in your own private space without the invasive eyes of others to impede the creative process, so make room for yourselves.

Jupiter in Third House

You'll have lots to say to each other here and everybody else in the neighborhood, too. You might say information exchange is at a peak, whoever you're dealing with, so you may have to spend some time sorting out what's hot and what's just hot air. Everything here is so totally, well, total....

Composite Pluto On IC (Mild)

Strong feelings about where you live characterize your relationship here, so your home is your castle, indeed. The decision to defend it, however, is dependent upon its really being under attack. Make sure they really are out to get you before you get all defensive. It may just be close quarters as usual.

Pluto in Third House

You can get your day-to-day message out forcefully here, and when it comes to argument the two of you are a force to be reckoned with. If you're coming from inner faith and belief, that will get you everything -- if you're just pushing for an advantage, it will be temporary and ultimately unsatisfying. Only insist if you know you're right.

Composite Neptune Tri MC (Mild)

Your ability to spiritualize the practical side of everyday life will get you rave reviews here. It's not that you're so handy with things, just that you can express your higher sides in the way you handle what's on your daily plate. You make the common seem uncommon, just by participating in it together.

Neptune in Fifth House

Come here looking for inspiration and you may find it -- but don't expect it to come in exactly the way you had planned. The Muse has her own plans for you here, and you'll be well to let her have her way so both of you benefit. There may be something that arouses mutual memories of childhood here, so keep your antennas up.

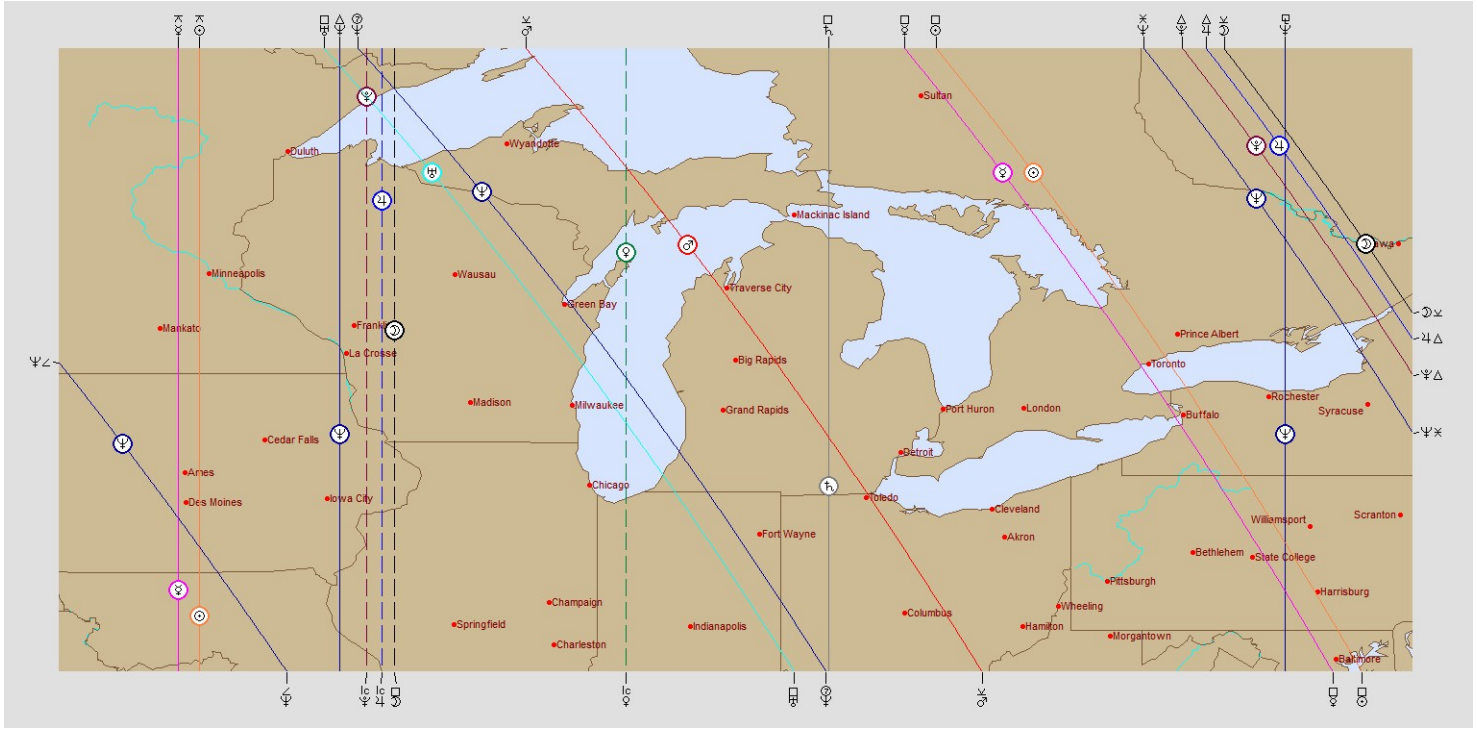

Composite Neptune Sxt AS (Mild)

You're likely to find yourselves running into (or attracting) a pretty dreamy crew here, meaning either rather lofty or totally clueless. Either one works for you, but don't expect too many hard-nose realists to be flocking to your company. You fit nicely down the middle, where possibilities become probabilities.

Composite Pluto Tri AS (Mild)

Your faith in your inner creativity and greater vision are an inspiration to yourselves and others here, because it's easy to make it come true by living it. Your beliefs are not judged either by your words or your deeds, but in the way you transmit both and make yourselves a welcome presence in the world.
