Introduction

The Relationship Chart

One and one make more than two, and when two people get together a third party emerges: the couple. As a couple, a team, a dynamic duo, you both become part of something larger that can give you greater power and potential than either has alone. As the two of you become one, a totally new horoscope emerges, called the relationship chart, which describes what you have become by linking up, what your special, mutual universe looks like from inside and out. It may be very different than either of you alone, or it may just reinforce you both, but it is what you are together, so embrace it. When you move to a new location, you modify that chart, and your image together and what you can do with it may change significantly. As with your individual charts, you have an inside that doesn't change with a move and an outside that changes with locality. To see if you have the best possible fit in this new place, here's a look at both.

The relationship chart for a couple is calculated in much the same way as a regular birth chart, only using the midpoint in time between the two birth dates, and the midpoint in space between the two birthplaces. When a relationship chart is relocated in Horizons, it keeps its own angles rather than using the angles of the relocated natal chart (as is done for other chart types).

Angles in Signs

Ascendant in Taurus

You're going to look like the image of stability and reliability here, which may mean there is more expected of you right out of the box than before. You look like you're in it for the long haul, so you may have to be or you'll seem like you're letting people down. You're salt of the earth here, so play it earthy and salty.

Midheaven in Capricorn

You can get a reputation for being hard-charging and businesslike here, so you'll likely do better financially, but it may put people off in the process, making you less approachable. Encourage rumors about your accessibility and then try to make them come true. Then you'll seem like you have it both ways.

Planets on Angles

Any planet on one of the angles (Ascendant, MC, Descendant, IC) of your relocation chart will be greatly strengthened when you are at the place of relocation, very much like if it were on the angles of your natal chart. If the Sun is on an angle, you'll have more confidence; if Mars is there you'll have more energy, and so on. Moreover, you don't have to actually go there to get the effect. Having a planet on a relocated angle will accentuate that place for you even if you are only doing business with people there over the phone. You have an accentuated quality to people in such places that you may not have elsewhere.

Relationship Moon On MC (Strong)

Your emotional flag is on display for everyone to see here, so instead of hiding how the two of you feel, flaunt it. You can make mileage off your response to situations and get to be known for being a touchstone for issues and answers. Let it be known that you let things be known, and you'll be the better known for it.

Moon in Tenth House

It will be easy to throw yourselves into your work here, and you'll put a lot of emotional fuel into maintaining a high profile doing so. Thus it's likely a good business move, if that's what you're here for, but it will also keep you busy whatever you're doing, as attending to your status here can become time-consuming.

Relationship Sun On AS (Strong)

You have a very strong presence together here, and you can bowl people over just by sheer force of your joint personalities. That allows you to fearlessly insert yourselves almost anywhere, but you could also step on some toes in the process without meaning to. Take your space, but not at the expense of those less daring.

Sun in First House

You can really take over together here, where you'll be in the first with the most at practically any occasion. Just make sure you reserve enough energy to keep up the pace, as your inclination will usually be to say "yes" and jump right in, even if you're running short of breath. Get there first, but let someone else ahead of you now and then.

Relationship Moon Tri AS (Strong)

You are what you seem here -- at least as far as personal appearances go. It's easy to respond to personal and social encounters with mutual honesty and a feeling of relaxation. No need to hide what's inside, as it's an integral part of your operations and when others get into your rhythm, all goes well.

Relationship Saturn Tri DS (Medium)

You'll be able to take it slow and carefully here, without an urge to speed things up and hurry. Careful play and moderate thinking may not put you at the cutting edge, but it prevents your edges from being cut off. You appear as reliable friends and an experienced pair that can be counted upon for a fallback position.

Saturn in Third House

If the daily din of phone calls, e-mails, and general chat is getting too much for you, things could get quieter here. Your mutual likelihood of wasting words is greatly reduced, so you may find you can both think a lot more clearly, one thing at a time. It's cranium-cooling back to basics for the brain.

Relationship Uranus On DS (Medium)

You lead with your instincts for discovery here, and uncovering new solutions to knotty problems seems second nature to you. It can also make the two of you seem a little strange or even abrasive as you are likely to be quick to sweep away cobwebs that others are content to live with, even cherish. Enlighten, brighten, but don't scare the horses.

Uranus in Sixth House

You'll probably never get into a regular groove together here -- which is great if you dislike routine. If you're looking for everyday security and regularity, however, look elsewhere. It will be up to you together to come up with creative and original ways to field the daily challenges, one at a time, because they will be unique and demand it.

Relationship Pluto On DS (Medium)

Coming on strong together here is no problem, but coming on too strong could be. You can usually get your way if you want to, but if you do it at others' expense it will trip you both up in the long run. When you must insist, make it a matter of faith and loyalty, never selfishness, and you'll attract backers, not detractors.

Pluto in Sixth House

The ordinary events of the day can either take you over completely or you may decide you want to utterly dispose of them. You're likely to be tempted by extremes in either direction, but you're probably best doing what you have to and not either forcing it on yourselves or throwing the everyday baby out with the bathwater. Get upset if you must, then do what you have to, no more.

Relationship Mars Sxt AS (Medium)

You can pick up a lot of extra energy here by simply networking and letting other people do some of the work -- or at least provide an enthusiastic support base while you do it together. It's all about making it look easy here, so lean into your swing together and follow-through. It's about moving yourselves around the bases, not pushing for a home run record.

Mars in Eleventh House

Expect energetic personal surroundings that include putting out to maintain strong and intimate relationships. Once you're connected here, it will be big time and you'll have to be ready to give as much as you receive. Loyalties will run strong, and your own mutual loyalty even stronger as a result.

Relationship Mercury Sxt IC (Mild)

It's really easy to seem like you know a lot of secret stuff and are much more plugged in than you are here, as long as you keep your words to a minimum and just imply that there's more. People's imagination will take up the slack, and you both can sit back with a knowing smile and let others tell you all about it.

Mercury in First House

You'll find an environment here that keeps you mentally sharp together, even if only as an antidote to others. Your ideas surface first and are immediately put into the mix, so you'll quickly find out what's what since you'll also be first to get feedback. Avoid being seen too much as self-promoters, but follow your clear vision when it calls, however it calls.

Relationship Mars Tri IC (Mild)

Doing things that are tangible and make physical sense can put you on the map together here. People will say you are sensible if you give them half the chance, simply because you seem to know where to put your efforts. Your deeds are your best advertisement, and also what you'll find easiest to promote.

Relationship Venus Tri DS (Mild)

It's easy to look good together here, as your basic creativity runs high and your personal sweep of understanding is magnified by the location and what it has to offer. You don't have to put it into words, just your physical presence will reflect the pleasure you find in the mutual company you find, and are.

Venus in Second House

When your needs are physical here, your reaction will be physical as well. You'll want to be paid for your services, and you will be as long as you are up front about it. There's a lot to be gained from this place if you are willing to spend some time researching where the money is waiting to be spent, on you.

Relationship Mercury On AS (Mild)

When you're working together you'll get the first word in here, and the cleverest as well. Just speak up and you'll be heard, and understood. That may even cause you to reconsider what you're talking about yourselves, since everybody else is taking it so seriously. Must be convincing, indeed.

Relationship Saturn On IC (Mild)

You probably won't find your quarters here to be large or expansive, nor will you particularly need them to be. Spartan living together may be quite sufficient, because you have something else more important to do than hang around home. Where you can save on yourselves, you can add to your achievements.
